Vest's Stolen Pigs.

Vest's Stolen Pigs.

(St. Louis Republic.)

"Another story that Vest told related to his candidacy for the legislature in 181 against A. S. Walker. The canvass was exceedingly exciting because of the hear approach of war, and all the questions incident to it were discussed with much animation. Charges and counter charges were made. Both sides knew that about six votes either way would determine the contest, and on the day before election. Walker raised the point on Vest that he had stolen some pigs. The only way that Vest could meet the charge was to acknowledge smilingly that he had the pigs in his pen and in his possession. If he had gone further and said that he had bought them—which they hoped he would do—they had witnesses to show he had not bought them, but Vest was too shrewd to be caught in the trap, and turned the accusation off with a laugh and the remark:

"One can't account for the way his

Flood of Private Pension Bills

There Have Bean Introduced 1.145
Private and Forty-five General
Bills, Nearly as many as in the Entire Last Two Sessions.

In the case of Leo C. Gritman vs. E.
Delancy Gritman, for failure to provide, the court, upon the submission of testimony, entered a decree granting plaintiff divorce and the custody of her 7-vear-old child.

Jeanette F. Richards was also awarded in on this congress, has ever been nown before in American history. Within two months after the opening of the session as many bills have been at increase in stead of diminishing.

In this respect this congress will read all records. The pension combittee are simply staggering under the creases of business. There has also each of the deserters, so as to enable them to et pensions. Up to this time last year the senate committee on pensions had received.

The case of Leo C. Gritman vs. E.
Delancy Gritman, for failure to provide, the court, upon the submission of testimony existing plaintiff divorce and the custody of testimony, entered a decree granting plaintiff divorce and the custody of the Trevar-old child.

Jeanette F. Richards was also awarded divide from Arthur C. Richards, on the grounds of desertion.

The irksome ties of matrimony existing between Norah J. Carroll and William Carroll were severed by a decree of divorce in favor of plaintiff, Carroll's offense consisted in habitual drunkenness and zeneral cruelty.

As a matter of fact, the distribution of pension money is a blessing to this country. It prevents Wall street from ever creating another When you have got $30,000,000 among the people in free circulation it cannot be cornered."

Over 300 bills have been introduced to remove the charge of desertion. This is a large increase over the number of similar bills introduced in the preceding congresses. Senator Cullom introduced a bill early in the session to remove desertion charges by the wholesale, but there was an outery against it and he dropped it, explaining that he had introduced it under a misapprehension. The bill is now being used against Mr. Cullom by his enemies in Illinois in the interest of Tanner's campaign for his seat in the senate.

The increase in private pension bills

The increase in private pension bills is not explainable by reason of the Spanish and Philippine wars, for comparatively few of the bills are in the interest of those who served in these campaigns. Most of the private pension bills are introduced after the pension bureau has rejected the claims of
